

FAITH AND WATER

Public Exhibition

5 to 7 July 2009

Part of the first-ever Faith in Water conference, with representatives from six religions exploring their relationship with water, and how this carries through into action.

Organised by the Alliance for Religions and Conservation (ARC), the Ecological Management Foundation (EMF) and the International Water and Sanitation Centre (IRC).

Photo courtesy of Salisbury and South Wiltshire Museum

A medieval pourer used for serving water during meals

THE EXHIBITION

Visit Sarum College to see a display of water relics brought by conference delegates who come from 15 different countries. From 9 am until 5 pm on 6 and 7 July.

Visit Salisbury Cathedral to see the Naiade (pictured, right), a Dutch water purification system developed by Clean Water Now! that is operating in 27 countries. A child can have 2.5 litres of drinking water a day, for less than 1p a week. 7 July until 3 pm.

Visit Salisbury and South Wiltshire Museum to see three historical objects (see above) linked to faith and water, a water trough, a medieval pourer and Laurence Whistler Glass 'Dark Arches', linked to the "turning water into wine" miracle. From 10 am to 5 pm; 6 July, noon to 5 pm.

Photo courtesy of Salisbury and South Wiltshire Museum

Amp and water trough originally placed on the corner of Catherine Street and Milford Street

